

Greg Keyes is the author of The Waterborn, The Blackgod, the Babylon 5 Psi Corps trilogy, the Age of Unreason tetralogy (for which he won the prestigious "Le Grand Prix de l'Imaginaire" award), and three New York Times bestselling Star Wars novels in the New Jedi Order series.

Emissary of the Void was originally a six-part serial published in two Star Wars periodicals. The first three parts appeared in Star Wars Gamer magazine, issues 8, 9 and 10. The final three parts appeared in Star Wars Insider magazine, issues 62, 63 and 64.

LUCAS
BOOKS

STAR WARS

THE NEW JEDI
ORDER

OF THE VOID
EMISSARY

GREG KEYES

DEL
REY
BALLANTINE
BOOKS

EMISSARY
OF THE VOID

GREG KEYES

Out in the Corporate Sector, ex-Jedi student Uldir Lockett and his crew of No Luck Required are helping the war effort by establishing safe routes for Luke Skywalker's Jedi Knights. However, their peaceful R&R is disturbed when they help to rescue Jedi Knight Klin-Fa Gi from a group of security officers. Peace Brigaders and Yuuzhan Vong spies. Klin-Fa insists on being taken to Wayland, but when Uldir contacts Luke for advice, he is alarmed to learn that Klin-Fa Gi died two months ago and no-one is allowed on occupied Wayland.

Klin-Fa escapes from Uldir custody and heads to Wayland by herself. Uldir and his crew follow the escapee deep into enemy occupied space. On Wayland, Uldir discovers the reason for Klin-Fa Gi's secrecy and lies, the Yuuzhan Vong have created a bio-weapon that threatens to destroy the galaxy's supply of bacta, and the Jedi Knight suspects treachery amongst her own!